

Dayton, Texas

CITYOFDAYTONTX.COM

Dayton was historically called West Liberty, Day's Town, Days Station, and Dayton Station. It was founded in 1831 as West Liberty, situated 3 miles west of the Trinity River with Liberty on the east bank. It had a West Liberty postoffice 1839-1841 and a Dayton postoffice starting in 1877. Dayton was original part of the City of Liberty but voters petitioned and voted to deannex from the City of Liberty in 1898. Dayton incorporated in May 1911. A fire that devoured the center of town in late August 1911 was followed a few days later by a vote to disincorporate. Dayton voted to be reincorporated on 28 November 1925.
