PASADENA, TEXAS

Pasadena, Texas was founded in 1893 by John H. Burnett of Galveston. Because of its lush vegetation the site was named for Pasadena, California.

Employment in Pasadena is closely linked to the ship-channel industries, Bayport Industrial District, and the Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center in adjacent Clear Lake. San Jacinto College and Texas Chiropractic College are located in Pasadena. Musical entertainment ranges from the fare at Gilley's Country and Western Club to performances of the Pasadena Philharmonic Orchestra. The Pasadena Historical Museum, Bay Area Museum, Armand Bayou Nature Center, Pasadena Rodeo, and San Jacinto Strawberry Festival are major tourist attractions.

Pasadena Municipal Golf Course

On the grounds of the old Ellington Air Force Base that shut down in the 1970s lies the 18-hole Pasadena Muni, upgraded by Jay Riviere in 1981 with an additional nine. Water and out-of-bounds comes into play on every hole of this links-style track. The fairways are narrow and the small greens are elevated. Water is everywhere, with some holes having wet stuff on either side of the fairway. No. 7 is the signature, a 437-yarder with water crossing the fairway and requiring a huge tee shot to carry.
