Rockwall TEXAS

rockwall.com | rockwallcountytexas.com

In 1851, as the first Anglo-American settlers moved to the area, they started to dig wells. During the digging, they found large underground rock walls that were initially believed to be manmade. Later study of the wall-like features by geologists and archaeologists found them to be jointed, natural sandstone dikes that had intruded Cretaceous marl. The town of Rockwall was established April 17, 1854 and named after these natural rock walls. While originally part of Kaufman County, in 1873, Rockwall County was formed with Rockwall being the county seat. At 149 square miles, Rockwall County has the smallest area of any Texas county. The county and city are named for a wall-like subterranean rock formation that runs throughout the county.
